Magic Wand

Materials

Use a sheet of paper from a wallpaper-sample book, or other heavy paper.
The measurements don't need to be precise, but a 9" X 12" rectangle will make a nice wand that is 15" long.

You'll need double-stickies from The Scrap Box; or you can use double-sticky tape, or glue.

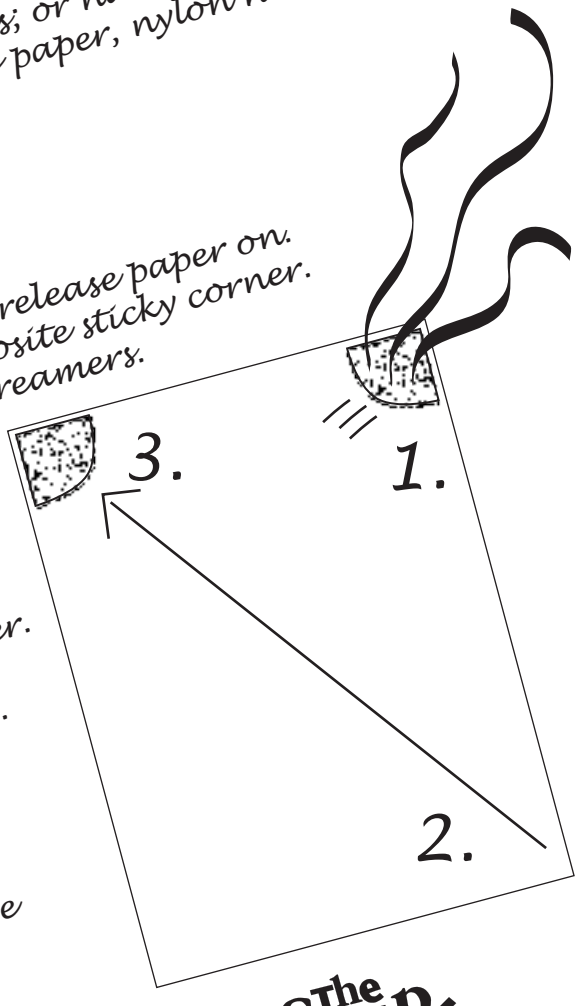
For the streamers, you can use multi-colored strips of ripstop hot-air balloon fabric from The Scrap Box; or ribbons from fabric stores; or narrow strips cut from: deflated shiny mylar balloons, mylar wrapping paper, nylon netting, or other "floaty or drapey" material.

Make the Wand

Prepare:
Apply double-stickies to two corners. Leave the top release paper on.
Draw an arrow from an empty corner to the opposite sticky corner.
Make 3 lines to mark where you will place the streamers.
An adult can do this preparation to make this project easy for very young children.



Procedure:
1. Remove release paper from the corner with the 3 lines. Put 4 to 6 ribbons over the corner.

2. Roll the paper in the direction of the big arrow.

3. Remove the release paper as you approach the corner; and finish rolling your wand.

4. Add sticker dots or wind a spiral of colored tape around the wand.
